Seaside and Sunshine Year 1 Summer 2

How is the seaside different now from when your grown-ups were little?

Would you rather go to the beach today or 100 years ago?

This half term we are learning about the seaside and how things have changed over the last 100 years.

As Scientists we will be looking at seasonal changes. We shall be comparing the changes that occur between each season and explaining why we think each change happens.

As Historians we will be looking at how the seaside has changed over time and how we can use different sources to investigate this.

As Geographers we will be learning and using key vocabulary to describe the seaside. We will be looking at the human and physical features.
